NEWS NOTES.

The State Liquor League is in session in Owensboro.

Isaac Bout and George Myers broke jail at Owingsville.

Joseph Dossett, of McLean county, is dying from a snake bite.

The thirty-four biggest estates in Brainerd average 183,000 acres each.

The small-pox situation at Stonega, Va., has reached the critical stage.

There are about 114,500 telegraph offices now open in the whole world.

L. & N. earnings for July show gains of $395,783 ST gross, and $258,568 90 net.

William F. Howe, formerly a noted criminal lawyer of New York, is dead.

Charles Roach was stabbed by Fayette Riley in Cumberland county, and died.

George W. Bissell, a prominent capitalist of Detroit, was killed in a run-away.

Albert Terrell, a pugilist, died at Philadelphia from injuries received in a fight.

H. S. McNutt, of Louisville, was elected president of the Kentucky Liquor League.

Atchison has a real miser who, although worth $100,000, makes most of his meals on parched corn.

Three engines were wrecked and the train men and passengers had a narrow escape in a Wabash collision.

Former Congressman June Gayle, who has been ill for some time, is now threatened with typhoid fever.

Great preparations are being made at Franklin for the reunion of the Orphan Brigade on September 18.

It is estimated that 70 persons were drowned in Algoa bay during the storm which swept over Port Elizabeth.

A jealous opera singer shot the woman with whom he had eloped to Philadelphia, and tried to kill himself.

The Hygeia Hotel at Old Point, Va., has closed forever. By order of the war department it must be razed by Oct. 1.

Hon. L. W. Twyman, a prominent lawyer of Hodgenville and a member of the last Constitutional Convention, is dead.

Work was resumed at the big Marvine colliery, near Scranton, Pa. There was no interference from strikers.

A period of depression is in sight for the British shipbuilding trades. Contracts for new vessels are few and far between.

A parole was granted convict Frank Brooks, on account of his conduct in the recent rioting at the Frankfort penitentiary.

In Union county Sam Houston, a well-to-do farmer, shot and killed his cousin, Henry Payne, during a quarrel at the supper table.

The Confederate Home Commissioners examined the sites offered at Owensboro for locating the home, but no conclusion was reached.

Lords Strathcona and Mount-Stephen, of Canada, have added to King Edward's hospital fund gifts which will produce $80,000 a year.

Hiram Cronk, the last soldier of the war of 1812, is dying at his home in New York. Cronk has lived in three centuries, and is 103 years old.

At Gamaliel, Monroe county, Bill Bishop and Thornton Ritchey were tried, charged with selling liquor at a Baptist association. They were found with a wagon and several hundred bottles of white whisky, and were fined $120 each and placed in jail.

Butler T. Southgate, receiver for the Industrial Mutual Deposit Company, has filed six suits against the officers and directors of the company in the Fayette Circuit Court. He seeks to recover $21,825 02, which, he alleges, was wrongfully drawn out by the defendants.

The express car of the Louisville and Nashville, No 2, northbound passenger train, was robbed between Franklin and Nashville, by two masked men. They held up Messenger A. B. Battle with revolvers and emptied an open safe. They secured about $500 and left the train as it was entering Nashville. One of the men claimed to be Gus Hyatt, who recently escaped from the Tennessee penitentiary.

A sudden halt has been called on the formation of the packing combine with a capital stock of $500,000,000. It is said that some of the proposed constituent companies have taken fright at the possibility of Congress placing Canadian meats on the free list. It is also reported that the fear of further disclosures of the methods pursued in the meat industry is an important factor in checking the merger.

It is announced that by Sept. 15th, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, numbering 100,000 members, will make a demand upon the great railroad systems for an increase of wages amounting to more than a million dollars per month, and that telegraph operators all over the country are organizing with the same purpose in view. If these events are pulled off as per schedule, your uncle Ponty Morgan's merger may resemble a 15 cent beef-trust break before frost falls.—Glasgow Times.

KINGSVILLE.

The baptizing of the recent converts took place Monday and Tuesday evening.

Eld. Brooks' solos and occasional duets with some of the "elderly ladies" have been as fascinating, it seems, as Eld. Berry's eloquence in pulpit.

A youthful run-away-couple from Casey, stopped at Hotel Pennybacker last week en route to Tennessee, where they were subsequently married. Their appearance here caused quite a commotion.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church conducted by Elds. Berry and Brooks, of Lexington Bible College, closed Thursday evening. So far there are 10 additions to the church. Eld. Berry's sermon "To men only," Sunday afternoon, was well attended and we hear that his talk was an excellent one, as Mr. Berry's sermons always are. He is eminently practical and not in the least sensational.

Miss Ora Griffin is ill of fever. Clero Murphy continues ill. His trouble has developed into typhoid fever. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Walls are contemplating moving to Bensenville. Misses Eddie Webb and Lola Floyd went to Somerset Sunday to attend the fair. Mrs. D. M. Creighton has returned from a protracted visit to relatives in Missouri. Mrs. W. L. McCarty continues ill, with but little improvement since her return from Stanford. Operator Creighton paid a brief visit to his homefolks Monday. Mack Williams was down from Burgin. Miss Eva Gooch, of Wayneburg, is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Action.

MR. WATTERSON EXPLAINS.

The editor of the Courier-Journal is a democrat. He opposed the Bryan ticket in 1896 as the representative of theories, free silver, so-called, being the paramount issue. He supported the Bryan ticket in 1900, the free silver is sue being not only no longer paramount, but practically as dead as the issue of African slavery. Nor is this the whole of it. In 1896 he had an alternative ticket, as between the Bryan ticket and the McKinley ticket. In 1900 the conditions changed and, reduced to a choice between the two, he supported the Bryan ticket. He did not support McKinley, either in 1896 or 1900. If he had he would have violated 10 points of disagreement in favor of but one point of partial agreement.

In revolutionary times men must often do as they can, not as they would, and, whatever else it was, the fusion movement of 1896, in which the United Democracy of 1892 made common cause with the silver republicans and the populists—to the infinite cost of the democrats—was a revolution. The storm and stress of weather over the editor of the Courier-Journal, along with the myriads of others, who thought with him, preferred his old party associations—much as they were opposed to some of the new doctrines—to republicanism. They were democrats, not republicans. In a word, the currency question settled, there was no longer any radical difference among those genuine democrats who see in republicanism only another name for Federalism and Whigism, dashed with modern rascality.—Courier-Journal.

Florida Recovers From Ravages of Frost.

"Florida is prosperous in every way," said Senator Tallaferro recently. "In two or three years the orange growers of my State will be sending as much fruit North as they did before the frost killed their groves. While the destruction of the groves was a terrible calamity to our people, the result has really proven beneficial, as the new orange groves have been planted south of the frostline, and a superior fruit will be grown."

"In Jacksonville, where I live, the results of the fire of a few years ago have been almost entirely overcome. We have built since the fire 2,000 houses in Jacksonville. The fire destroyed 2,600 houses. In almost every instance the new houses have cost twice as much as the ones that were burned. They are built in a way to make a widespread conflagration unlikely in the future. In the business section they are of brick, and in places where frame houses have been built they have metal roofs and are better built than the old houses."

The Western Tobacco Journal has the following to say on the outlook of tobacco in Kentucky: Tobacco has improved considerably, but is not in a satisfactory condition. It is very irregular, some fields being fairly good and others very poor. The Burley districts report more favorable conditions than the Dark Tobacco counties of the western section, but the crop, as a whole, will be far below the average in yield and quality. Cutting has begun in the early fields.

HOT SHOT.

The following "hot shots" from Judge Saufley's speech at Harrodsburg Monday seem to have hit Mr. Harding in tender spots, judging by the wall bibles organ, the Dauville News, makes:

"He has assailed me," he said, "with a degree of venom and fury. After having had the thumb screws put to him, he confessed with the agony of a man parting from a drawn tooth that he was a defaulter in the campaign in which Mr. Goebel was the nominee of the democratic party. He pleads for by-gones to be by-gones, and points out my friends in the crowd and calls them to account for their attitude on the silver question. Yes, let by-gones be by-gones so far as Mr. Harding is concerned, but let the coals be kept burning and keep us over them."

"In that battle, when true and tried leaders were needed most, when disaster was imminent, when the party stood on the brink of a volcano, when men were in doubt, when democracy in Kentucky seemed to be in its death throes, when Goebel was making his fight alone, assailed by calumny and insult, with the moneymaking corporations banded to encompass his destruction, when intimidation was attempted at the polls, with trickery and fraud to contend against at the ballot box, Robert Harding stood back and gave aid and comfort to the enemy."

"When the year after you saw how the cat had jumped, when the victory had been won without your help, you came back and plead for harmony. The people were in support of Goebel, why could you not vote for them? It was the conduct of such men, actuated by envy and malice and spite, that followed on the heels of William Goebel and hounded him to his death. If it had not been for your affiliation with and encouragement of those lawless mountaineers and assassins, William Goebel would be alive today instead of in his grave at Frankfort. When you had sown the wind and reaped the hurricane, you came back. You said you were bigger than your party. I did not say that; I sacrificed my principles for my party. To protest against the action of this committee is not to bawl."

Judge Saufley then stated that during the troubles which followed the assassination of Goebel, he had issued a paper giving his reasons for believing that Taylor was concerned in the plot. He had called upon the authorities to apprehend Taylor, try, convict and hang him. He said from that moment a cabal had been determined upon his defeat if he ever again presented himself for re-election. He charged Mr. Harding with being the exponent of this cabal.

PHYSICIAN AND DRUGGISTS.

Ford & Sturgeon, a prominent drug firm at Rocky Hill Station, Ky., write: "We were requested by Dr. G. B. Snigley to send for Herbine for the benefit of our customers. We ordered three dozen in December, and we are glad to say, Herbine has given such great satisfaction that we have duplicated this order three times, and today we have your salesmen another order. We beg to say Dr. G. B. Snigley takes pleasure in recommending Herbine" 50c bottle at Penny's Drug Store.

The Fairs.

The fair secretaries' association has announced the following dates:

Somerset, Sept. 2-4 days.

Bardstown and Glasgow, first week in September.

Elizabethtown and Bowling Green, second week in September.

Interstate Fair, Louisville, fourth week in September.

CURED PARALYSIS.

W. S. Baily, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites, and skin eruptions. It does the work" 25c, 50c and $1 bottle at Penny's Drug Store.

The value of the coal mined in Japan is almost equal to that of all other minerals combined. It varies from the hardest anthracite to peat, but the quality is usually inferior to that of American coal. Modern machinery and methods have been introduced in the operation of many mines.

Mother—Why, Johnny, your shirt is on wrong-side out. You've been in swimming again.

Johnny—No'm; I've bin turning somersets. Dad's how my shirt got twisted round.

The Friend—I thought you said you could lick him with one hand tied behind your back?

The Vanquished—I kin, but he wouldn't wait till I got me hand tied.

A wonderful statue adorns a public square in Yokohama. It is a seated image of the god Diabutus, and its height is 63 feet. The total weight of this great statue is 450 tons, 500 pounds of which are pure gold.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Fire destroyed G. W. Lyne's furniture store at Nicholasville.

Henry Klesair, a farmer of the Red Lick section, was found dead in bed.

Mine operators in Laurel county hired nonunion men to take the places of union miners, and trouble is feared.

Wm. Fox, of Danville, while walling a well was dangerously hurt by a stone falling and crushing his skull. His recovery is doubtful.

While digging with a pick, preparatory to building the foundation of a house at Middlesboro, James Smith unearthed a body in a perfect state of petrification.

Among the new attractions which will be seen at the Knox County Fair, is an exhibition of oil. A sample of each grade of oil found in the Knox oil fields will be on exhibition in the floral hall.

Fire destroyed Stanfel & Co.'s, store at Pleasant View, entailing a loss of $1,200, and the Matcox store and dwelling. Partially insured. Dynamite was used to wreck the burning buildings to save the village.

The Clifty Creek Coal Co., of Pulaski county, with $150,000 capital stock, was incorporated at Frankfort. J. A. Simonds, of New York, and C. C. Gillespie and J. L. Waddle, of Somerset, are the chief stockholders.

The unveiling of the handsome Confederate monument recently erected in Spring Hill Cemetery, Harrodsburg, by the Mercer Confederate veterans, aided by liberal popular subscriptions, takes place on the afternoon of Sept. 16.

Mr. Walter McCarthy, who was working on the silo, which the Messrs. McRoberts are building on their farm in Lincoln county, was hurt by a flying piece of a nail which struck him in the eye. It is thought that he will lose the sight.—News.

The remains of Elias Elliott arrived from North Dakota and were interred in Green River cemetery, near Middlesboro. Deceased was twenty-two years old and was the son of Mr. John J. Elliott, a well-to-do farmer of Casey county. Elliott was a cowboy on the Western plains, and was thrown from his horse in July, receiving injuries which resulted fatally.

A Middlesboro dispatch says: Failing to find John Largee, whitecap in Hancock county, whipped his wife into insensibility. Largee was accused of numerous small offenses and general worthlessness. He heard that he was to be ridden on a rail and led to the hills. The whitecaps wore masks, but Mrs. Largee recognized some of them and says she will prosecute.

Rev. W. S. Houchins, pastor of the Cave Run Christian church near Burgin, while splitting wood, had his head almost split open by the ax striking a wire stretched above him, swerving the course of the sharp instrument, which struck his head with full force, cutting a horrible gash. He was carried into the house in an unconscious condition, but is recovering.

A strange thing has happened in the Tennessee oil field. The two Bob Bar wells have been pumping 237 barrels of oil a day steadily for two weeks. Suddenly the yield of oil ceased, and instead of oil the wells are pumping salt water. The Somersett company's two wells at Sunny Brook as suddenly ceased to yield oil, having furnished over 200 barrels a day for the past two or three weeks. Oil men are puzzled.

Farmers near Arlington, S. D., posted and patrolled their stubble fields to prevent President Roosevelt's son, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., from hunting. Dogs were set on him at one farmhouse, where he went for a drink of water.

"That Miss Goldrick seems to be awfully popular with the young men."

"Popular is no name for it. Why, do you know, her father has actually got out a printed form for declining offers for her hand."

In the Oldroyd Lincoln Museum in Washington one of the interesting relics is the Bible which was used by Abraham Lincoln's mother daily. This volume came from the press in 1799.

The cost of the State University of Missouri for its buildings, books and other equipments is $1,300,000, and the endowment bearing interest at the rate of 5 or 6 per cent, is $1,236,000.

The Holy Ghost plant, a product of Mexico, Central and South America, is so called because of the shape of the flower, which has the appearance of a dove with expanded wings.

It takes a year to visit the island of Maine if one is visited every day. There are just 365 of them, if a mistake has not been made in the count.

The hardest wood is not ebony, but cocas. It grows in the West Indies, and is used for making flutes and similar instruments.

Seventy-five hundred out of 12,000 carpenters in New York have struck for more money.

THE attack of the Danville News on Judge M. C. Saufley, of this place, was as unwarranted as it was in bad taste, and if Editor Lillard doesn't see the error of his way and make a retraction of it all, a great majority of the democrats of this judicial district will always think he should have done so and they will charge to him a wrong that time will never make them forget. The object of the slanderous charges are readily apparent, but the strange part of the whole business to us is how and why Mr. Lillard permitted himself to be made a cat's paw of. The fact that Hon. Robert Harding did not vote for Hon. William Goebel for governor had leaked out and something had to be done to detract the minds of the people from his refusal to support the party's nominee. Hence the three-column-scary-headlines, "Saufley Blots," and the half page or more of billingsgate that followed concerning the joint debate at Harrodsburg Monday. The News well knows who its candidate has to beat in order to secure the nomination and in turning its guns on Judge Saufley it makes a feeble attempt to destroy him by charging him who has never scratched a ticket with being a bolter because that gentleman is not pleased with the committee's action in ignoring the people's plea for a primary to select nominees for circuit judge and Commonwealth's attorney. If this makes Judge Saufley a bolter, we cheerfully admit our ignorance as to what constituted one. If this makes the judge a bolter, what, pray, is the News' candidate who directly refused to support Mr. Goebel? Judge Saufley was voting and working for democracy's cause almost before Editor Lillard and his candidate were born and if after such honorable service he is considered a bolter merely because he wants, what the people want, primary, things have come to a pretty pass indeed. What say the democrats about the matter? Do they agree with the News that the judge is a bolter? Surely they do not. They know him and if they have a chance they will speak in no uncertain tones at the polls. The charge that Judge Saufley told "vulgar anecdotes" and "got rattled" and that "Harding (like Esau, the snake eater) ate him alive" are too absurd to be seriously considered. The gentleman who honors Stanford by living here does not deal in "vulgar anecdotes;" he doesn't belong to the class of windjammers who have to entertain their hearers that way, and Mr. Lillard knows it. Compare the two gentlemen as orators and do you think for an instant that Mr. Harding ate Judge Saufley alive? Does Mr. Lillard honestly think so? We don't think he does. In his years on the rostrum did Mr. Lillard or any of his friends ever see the judge rattled? We are satisfied they have never. Then why all these charges? There is method in the News' madness, but its object is too plain and the present judge will profit rather than suffer by its uncalled for and indecent attack upon him. The little flings at the gentlemen who are serving as Master Commissioners would be more creditable emanating from a child's brain than coming from the source they do. Judge Saufley and Mr. Harding will speak at Danville Saturday. Go and see who will "eat 'em alive" there.

The democratic Congressional campaign book, just issued, is chock full of good things and that it will do good for the cause for which it was gotten out, none who will peruse it carefully will gainsay. A large portion of it is devoted to the discussion of imperialism and trusts. A criticism of the republican campaign book is contained in the volume and statistics are given to show that tariff protected manufacturers sell their wares in foreign markets at reduced prices. If you are in doubt as to how you will vote this fall secure one of these remarkable volumes and you will experience no trouble in making your decision.

ABOUT the silliest twaddle that the republican papers are inflicting the public with are the stories about Roosevelt's son. From the toadism, one would suspect that he was the crown prince of this country. There are two or three hundred boys in and around Stanford, who are superior in every way to young Roosevelt and we fail to see why he is made so important a personage.

MR. HARDING stated in his speech at Harrodsburg that Hon. R. C. Warren precipitated his announcement for circuit judge by his call of the committee of this district to meet and decide on a manner and time for nominating candidates for judge and commonwealth's attorney. The gentleman is in error. His announcement appeared in this paper July 11, the call was not published until July 29, and the meeting held Aug. 9. Mr. W. C. Bell was also conceded to be a candidate at that time. It is not Mr. Warren's fault that the fight was begun so early. Three chairmen of the district were supposed to be anti-Saufley and they could have set a time next year to name candidates just as easily as they decided on December 6, 8 and 10.

LATER reports from Saturday's eruption of Mont Pelee state that the loss of life on the island of Martinique was at least 1,600. The gendarmes of the island give the number of killed as being 1,069 and the injured 1,500. The village of Morne Rouge was destroyed in a few minutes and every inhabitant was killed. A great part of the village of Ajoupa Bouillon was destroyed. A large portion of the island has been devastated and the inhabitants are clamoring to be taken away.

SENATOR PLATT takes it all back. He denies a recent interview crediting him with the statement that New York republicans, at their coming State convention, will endorse the candidacy of President Roosevelt in 1904. The Senator must have found out that he has a chance for the coveted honor.

FIVE STATES have pledged themselves to vote for the nomination of Roosevelt while 12 have preferred to merely endorse the administration. The report that his own State of New York will decline to declare for his candidacy looks like a big fly in the ointment.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S carriage was struck by an electric car at Lenox, Mass., and a secret service man named Craig killed. It was a narrow escape for Terrible Teddy, but then a miss is as good as a mile, you know.

THE black man is up against it in North Carolina. The white republicans barred their dark skinned brethren from the State convention. However, he will still be allowed to vote and look pleasant.

Gov. Stone, of Pennsylvania, has intimated that he will call an extra session of the Legislature with a view to the passage of a compulsory arbitration law, having for its object the settlement of the anthracite strike.

Eighth district republicans at Nicholasville Wednesday nominated Wm. Lawson Sumrall, of Mercer county, for Congress on the sixth ballot. T. A. Chenault, of Madison, withdrew after five ballots and Sumrall was nominated over George Nicholas, of Shelby, by a vote of 99 to 66.

Benjamin Wilson, Deep Hollow, W. Va., who died last Sunday, left instructions that he should not be buried in any graveyard with democrats. The executors of Benjamin will, therefore, have to make arrangements to lay him away in a colored cemetery or where the trusts bury their dead.

The Ohio Democrats adopted a platform endorsing the Kansas City declaration, complimenting Bryan and taking a strong position on State issues. A ticket headed by the Rev. Herbert Bigelow, the Cincinnati single taxer, for Secretary of State, was nominated. Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster" and other noted books, is dead in New York.

President Roosevelt authorized statement that he was not considering Attorney General Cox as a successor to Justice Shiras, who, he said, had not resigned. President Roosevelt also said that he did not intend changing the civil nature of the Canal Commission and placing the construction of the isthmian canal under the jurisdiction of the War Department with Gen. Wood as chairman of the Canal Commission.

ABOUT the silliest twaddle that the republican papers are inflicting the public with are the stories about Roosevelt's son. ## PUBLIC SALE!

Of Dr. P. W. Logan's Farm on

Wednesday Afternoon, Sep. 10

It is located in the West End of Lincoln County, Ky., on Stanford and Milledgeville pike, five miles south of Junction City, four miles west of Hintonville, seven miles west of Stanford and two miles east of Moreland, a station on C. S. R. R. Said farm contains 256 acres of fertile bluegrass land, all of which is in grass except about 40 acres, and has upon it two sets of improvements: really two farms in one, being in one continuous body but susceptible of division. Front part of farm has upon it a large two-story brick residence containing 9 rooms, a two-story veranda in front, large two-story porch on east end of house, large dry cellar. This residence is surrounded by evergreen and forest trees and within 60 yards of pike. On south portion of farm is a front cottage of four rooms, kitchen, spring house, barns, etc. Upon entire premises there are four good barns, ice house, 3 tenant houses and other outbuildings. Also two good orchards, cistern, well, etc. Forty acres in sugar tree woodland. The entire farm is under good fence and well watered by springs, ponds and branches running through it. One of the barns above mentioned is 90 by 36 feet, 30 feet high and splendidly tiered for tobacco. The immediate neighborhood, roads, shopping advantages, schools, etc., are good and location desirable. Terms of sale will be made known. The farm will be offered in two lots of 100 and 156 acres with improvements on each lot and as a whole. Will be sold at public auction at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, Sep. 10, 1902.

P. W. LOGAN, Moreland, Ky.

M. F. ELKIN and family leave the first of next week for Lexington, where they will reside in the future, having taken apartments at the LeLand. As State Commander of the Maccabees Mr. Elkin finds that constantly increasing business makes it imperative that his office be established in some more central location, and has selected the capital of the Bluegrass as the place. While rejoicing in the success achieved, all unite in deplored the loss to our social and commercial life of this estimable family, who have so long been prominent factors in Stanford's social fabric.

LOCALS.

JIM BEST, a clever darkey, died in Maxville Tuesday night.

GLASSES to fit the eye. Latest styles in frames. Craig & Hocker.

REMEMBER the railroad meeting at the court-house Monday afternoon.

J. D. MANNING will have a sale near McKinney on the 13th, preparatory to moving to Oklahoma.

W. C. TERHUNE, the mule buyer of Harrodsburg, will be here Monday to buy mule colts and broke mules.

EDWARD COOPER fired several shots at a chicken thief the other night, but up to date the scamp's carcass has not been found.

MONDAY is county court day. Come to town and after paying for your home paper attend the railroad meeting at the court house.

SATURDAY, Sept. 27, is the last day for filing claims against Lincoln county for the October term of fiscal court.

Geo. B. Cooper, clerk.

COAL.—Now is the time to fill your coal houses. The roads are good and you can haul big loads. We have plenty of coal, cheap for cash. J. H. Baughman & Co.

SPECIAL JUDGE.—Hon. R. C. Warren has been appointed special judge by Gov. Beckham to try a number of cases in the Whitley circuit court next week. The governor made a good selection.

IT was Marshal Jones instead of Constable Peyton who stopped the fight and arrested the parties at the Negro fair Saturday afternoon. The crafty old fellow is always the right man in the right place.

A LARGE number of Judge M. C. Saufley's admirers in this county will go to Danville Saturday afternoon to hear their favorite speak. They also want to be on hand when Mr. Harding "eats him alive."

MINSTRELS COMING.—Lew Tigner's Big Minstrel Co., carrying excellent brass band and superb orchestra, has been booked for Walton's Opera House for Friday night, Oct. 24. They come highly recommended by both press and public.

IN Judge W. R. Carson's court Tuesday George Alcorn was fined $7 for drunkenness, Buck Baughman a similar amount for interfering with an officer, Jim Alcorn $25 and costs for drunk and disorderly conduct and Nub Embry $13 for fighting. All are colored.

BEAR in mind the railroad meeting at the court-house Monday afternoon, next, county court day. Attend it and see if you can't say or do something to help secure the extension of the Southern Railway. It would be the greatest help that Stanford and Lincoln county could get.

WE failed to mention last issue the delightful birthday party given Master James Pickett Tribble by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tribble. It was a most enjoyable affair and a 25 or 30 youngsters who were present will not soon forget it. A splendid lunch was served.

KEYS to the following ballot boxes not been brought in: Stanford Nos. 1 and 4, one key each; Stanford 2 and 3, two each; Waynesburg Nos. 1 and 2, one key each. Also seals for Stanford Nos. 2 and 3. Holders will please bring them at once. Geo. B. Cooper, county clerk.

NOTICE.—It has been the aim of the Central Ky. Real Estate Exchange to secure options on that class of property where the owner is exceedingly anxious to sell or is forced to sell and thereby secure a low price on same and hold out some inducement to buyers. Read their list carefully and see the bargains offered.

THE magnificent country home of Dr. P. W. Logan will be sold at public auction at 2:30 next Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 10. The place contains 256 acres of fine land and has on it a palatial residence which cost nearly $12,000. The farm lies close to Moreland, one of the most important shipping stations on the Queen & Crescent road. Read description elsewhere.

FIRST ONE.—J. W. Butcher, of Crab Orchard, who was appointed administrator of Barbara Middleton, also colored, came to town Wednesday and made a settlement with County Judge James P. Bailey. This is the first colored administrator that has settled with Judge Bailey since that gentleman was elected five years ago and the judge complimented Butcher for his prompt work.

THE G. A. R. reunion at Crab Orchard beginning next Thursday and continuing over Saturday, promises to be a memorable occasion for the old boys who wore the blue. They extend a cordial invitation to ex-Confederates to come and take part in their proceedings.

I HAVE returned from the city with the choicest novelties and styles of the market. A carefully selected line of fall hats. If you want the best that is to be obtained, call to see me and inspect my line. Mrs. Cleo W. Brown.

ED AND FRANK WILKINSON have bought of W. H. Brady the agency for the Danville Steam Laundry and will have an office at the former's shop. Mr. Wilkinson will put in another chair and his brother will work for him.

THE G. A. R. reunion at Crab Orchard beginning next Thursday and continuing over Saturday, promises to be a memorable occasion for the old boys who wore the blue. They extend a cordial invitation to ex-Confederates to come and take part in their proceedings.

TO PRINTERS.—THE INTERIOR JOURNAL has a good newspaper outfit for sale. It includes a Cincinnati Cylinder press, two job presses, a Mann press large enough to print two pages of a seven-column paper and lots of job and body type. Will sell at a bargain if application is made at once.

COURT DAY DINNER.—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve dinner to the court day crowd next Monday, county court day, in the old Seaverance store room, opposite the court house. Only 25 cents will be charged and a splendid dinner will be served. The object of the enterprise is to raise funds for church repairs. Go and help a laudable cause.

MATRIMONIAL.

John Gray, aged 17, and Miss Lula Smith, 14, were married in Henry county.

Thomas M. Johnson and Miss Maggie Anderson were made one at Rev. J. M. Cook's by that gentleman Wednesday.

Moses E. Moore, aged 26, and Miss Nona May, the 14-year-old daughter of Ben May, a well-to-do farmer of Casey county, closed to Tennessee and were married.

A man is being sued in Connecticut for kissing the girl he was to marry. In Kentucky the suit is generally brought against the fellow who does not marry the girl he has kissed.—California Record.

A law went into effect in New York Monday which says that no one obtaining a decree of divorce in that State can marry inside of three months under penalty of the punishment provided for bigamy. That's an awful long time for some people to have to wait. Frequently heretofore women have had two husbands in a day and men two wives.

If this thing of prospective grooms committing suicide because of their unworthiness of the women who have graciously consented to take them as either good or bad husbands, should grow into a universally unanimous fad, earth will become heaven in the one respect of neither giving nor receiving in marriage. Better brace up, boys, and make the best of an exceptionally good, though one-sided bargain.—Louisville Times.

Having concluded to quit farming I will offer at public sale my finely improved bluegrass farm of 250 acres in western part of Lincoln county, Ky., about 2½ miles east of Hustonville and one mile west of McKinney on C. ## Kentucky State Fair.

Sure enough novelties are to be presented by the Kentucky State Fair Association at the Churchill Downs grounds in September, this statement being authorized by Secretary W. M. Neal, who says that no such old things as the "Midway" are being considered. A contract has been closed whereby on Tuesday, Sept. 23, there is to be a collision between railroad engines of at least 200,000 pounds each. While these engines, of course, have been condemned, they are capable of great speed, and will clash while going at no less than 40 miles an hour.

A special track will be constructed, a spur being necessary for the Southern railroad to get engines into the fair grounds. They will each have a fireman and engineer, who will cause the iron monsters to go through some evolutions, then, the fire box will be open, and the throttles thrown wide open, engineers and firemen will leap for safety and let the public witness what most unfortunately, does often occur in railroad life. This, however, will be a wreck or metal. Care will be taken to keep people away from dangerous ground, yet there is a chance of witnessing a thrilling explosion in boilers bursting, and certainly a wreck.

The executive committee of the State Fair Association met yesterday afternoon and decided upon two special fair days, one to be "Kentucky day," when the governor and his staff will be in attendance and the other "Louisville day," when the mayor with the boards, not omitting councilmen and aldermen, are supposed to be in evidence.
